NATURAL SCIENCE

DETERMINISM

PREMISE

Classical physics encouraged a picture of the universe in which the future could, in principle, be completely determined by the state of the past.

QUESTION

If the universe were perfectly deterministic, would anything about human choice actually change?